SULLINS COLLEGE BURNS

At Bristol, Va., Causing Loss of $150,000 Insured.

Bristol, Va., Dec. 31.—Sullins college, a Methodist institution here for girls, burned to the ground at 1 o'clock this morning. The fire started on the upper floor and spread to all parts of the building so speedily that the firemen were unable to contain it.

The loss is $150,000, with partial insurance.

The girls, who represent 20 states, were away for the holidays. Members of the faculty and the few remaining girls escaped without difficulty. Numerous pianos and the girls' wardrobes were saved by citizens.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

The most economical, cleansing and germicidal of all antiseptics is

Paxtine

A soluble Antiseptic Powder to be dissolved in water as needed.

As a medicinal antiseptic for douches in treating catarrh, inflammation or ulceration of nose, throat, and that caused by feminine ills it has no equal. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women, which proves its superiority. Women who have been cured say it is "worth its weight in gold." At druggists. 50c. large box, or by mail, The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

NEW PASTOR'S FIRST YEAR

Rev. J. Newton Jessup Celebrates His Anniversary at Christian Church.

REVIEWS THE YEAR'S WORK

Tells of His Impressions of City and Surrounding Country.

Sunday was the first anniversary of Rev. J. Newton Jessup at the First Christian Church. In remarking upon the occasion Mr. Jessup said among other things:

"I wonder how many of you had thought that this is the anniversary of my pastorate? One year ago I began my ministry here, and this is the beginning Sunday of the second year. One year ago I stood before you in fear and trembling. You had never seen me. It is a fine thing for me that you never had. You had taken me on faith. It took an extraordinary amount of faith to stick to your bargain.

We have spent the year in getting acquainted—a little bit. "It is said the first year of married life is the most trying. The newly married couple spent the first year in "finding each other out;" in adjusting themselves to one another; in accommodating themselves to each other's temperament, habits of thought, ways of looking at things, peculiarities, idiosyncrasies, etc.

"This adjustment is necessary, and if they get through this ordeal safely, they will likely get all right the rest of the way. The man says (to himself, of course), sometime after the honeymoon has waned, "Well, well, I thought she was an angel. I believe after all she is just flesh and blood; with a big preponderance of just human."

"And many a woman has said in the course of the first year."

"Goodness gracious, if I were only out of this scrape, I would never get into another one like it."

But still, if they really love each other, these barriers will not prove insuperable, and in time there will be the fullest accord and peace.

"So we spent the first year in getting acquainted, and I think we have not had our "first quarrel."

"In the adjusting process we were both amateurs. Neither I nor you had had much experience in that process. You had not had such an experience in eighteen years; I had only one such experience in sixteen years. No doubt we were both bunglers in the adjusting business. "Well, we have managed "to adjust" some how or other; by main-strength and awkwardness as we used to say; and, on the whole have done fairly well. Let it go at that.

"There are some things to which I am glad to bear abundant witness. I like Hopkinsville. I like this country. Nature has been prodigal in her bestowments. A fairer or more promising country one could scarcely wish. Here abundance and comfort and the simple life reign, and if one could add these to the boon of contentment, he need not want more.

"There are hundreds and hundreds of lovely people in Hopkinsville. They are christian; their ideals are christian; they are refined, cultured. It is a pleasure to know them and be associated with them. If one could come to know these people intimately through a number of years, I know he would come to love them.

In the year just closed two hundred and one people have been added to the church; ninety-nine of these by baptism. The average of those baptized was eighteen and one half years. Thirty-five have moved away, leaving a net gain of one hundred and sixty-six. The resident membership is now nine hundred and seven. Money raised by all departments of church life for all purposes, $9,191.55. Contributed to missions and benevolences $2,926.14. The pastor has preached here and elsewhere 118 times; made 15 miscellaneous addresses; conducted 24 funerals; solemnized 7 marriages; attended numerous conventions, institutes and meetings for religious work and reform movements.

Texas has 700,000 qualified voters this year.

Eric Back and Chaplain Algernon S. O. Sweet, and nine warrant officers, were lost.

ALTON PACKARD

Lyceum Attraction No. 3 at Tabernacle To-night.

It is related of Alton Packard, the cartoonist, who is here to-night, that he one day called, in company with his little daughter, upon his friend, Mr. Charles Dana Gibson, ushered into Mr. Gibson's studio where the great illustrator was busily at work upon a magazine picture. Gibson was complaining that he could not find suitable models for the picture, and then catching sight of the cartoonist's little daughter he said, "There is my model," and forthwith the little lady was posing and her likeness delineated by Gibson appeared the next week in Life.

Psyche of Capua.
Edmund von Mach in his "Handbook of Greek and Roman Sculpture," says that the marble Psyche of Capua, "so-called," was discovered in the ruins of the amphitheater in Capua, together with the Capuan Aphrodite, in the middle of the eighteenth century. The lower part of the nose has been restored and the entire figure has been polished to obtain a smooth surface. The figure seems too mature to be a Psyche and may be an image of Aphrodite. "Judged as a piece of architectural decoration this Psyche is perfect," says Von Mach. "Studied close at hand it is very disappointing. The body is indicated by graceful outlines, but there is no fine modeling anywhere."

IN MEMORY.

"There is a Reaper, whose name is Death,
And with his sickle cleave,
He reaps the bearded grain with a breath,
And the flowers that grow between."

It was not in cruelty—not in wrath that this Reaper visited the Howell community at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 26th, 1915, and took from us one of our best and most beloved citizens, Mr. Will A. Stroube. Mr. Stroube was born June 7th, 1856, was 59 years of age. He was the third child of a family of seven children. He was married to Miss Kate White July 21, 1886.

To this happy union eight children were born. Three died in their infancy, and five survive him.

Mr. Stroube was a man of many admirable traits of character. His gentle, loving father heart, his deeds of love for others, and his deep spirit of sincerity, won for him many friends. He was a member of Liberty Christian church.

On account of illness of other members of the family, no services were held at the home. Rev. T. D. Moore, his former pastor, conducted brief services at the grave, after which the body was laid to its last resting place in the presence of many sorrowing friends, who expressed their sympathy by words, actions and beautiful floral designs.

Mr. Stroube had been in bad health for several years, but he had been confined to his bed only a few days. He is survived by his wife and five children, Dr. Stanley, Wiley, Sam, Willie and Katie, a sister, Mrs. J. B. Lander, of Madisonville, a brother, Mr. John Stroube, of Oak Grove, and the brothers of Mrs. Stroube, to whom he had been as a father.

How sad this home will be since he has been taken from them, but God knows best.

The memory of this devoted husband and father will bring great comfort to the sorrowing family. God had permitted him to live until his youngest child was almost thirteen years of age and he was also permitted to see his son, the pride of his heart, graduate from the medical college and begin his life's work.

May the splendor of the sunset grow more beautiful in contemplating the meeting in the home of the redeemed. We shall meet him in the eternal city, where sickness and sorrow are no more.

"On the joy of meeting,
In that home so fair,
With his glories all to share,
In that happy Eden Land,
We shall walk the golden strand,
With the shining angel band.
Sorrowing family we sympathize with you, in your dark hours of life. May God bless you and abundantly supply His ministrations of love. Remember that "The eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms."
